

Meet the language program directors:

Antonio Noguera (Ph.D., Spanish, UW-Madison)
Director of Chinese, Korean, Portuguese and Spanish

Antonio grew up in Madrid, where he went on to manage his own company for many years. He has extensive teaching experience and has led travel tours to his home country and neighboring lands.

Contact: anoguera@dcs.wisc.edu or 608-262-5929.

Sage Goellner (Ph.D., French, UW-Madison)
Director of Arabic, French, German, Irish, Italian, Norwegian and Swedish

Sage is an experienced French instructor who has lived, traveled, and studied throughout France and in Quebec. She has taught at the University of Illinois and the Université de Paris.

Contact: sgoellner@dcs.wisc.edu or 608-262-4873.

NONPROFIT ORG
US POSTAGE
PAID
MADISON WI
PERMIT NO 658

 CONTINUING STUDIES
University of Wisconsin–Madison
21 N. Park Street, 7th Floor
Madison, WI 53715-1218

Expand your horizons

www.dcs.wisc.edu/lsa/languages

CONTINUING STUDIES
University of Wisconsin–Madison

Learn a new world language

Choose from a variety of noncredit courses

Discover a new voice

Begin or build upon your language study with the help of UW-Madison instructors, discover foreign cultures and explore different sounds, expressions, customs, and ways of thinking.

Seven reasons to enroll in a new language class:

1. Prepare for international travel
2. Develop language skills for your career
3. Improve your existing language knowledge
4. Add an exciting and different experience to your life
5. Expand your study or travel abroad options
6. Appreciate international food, music, literature and film
7. Connect with your family heritage or new family members

"It was fun... which is extremely important. As an adult learner I was amazed at how much I learned in about two months."

Learn in relaxed classes with supportive instructors.

You'll enjoy experimenting with different sounds and grammar as your instructor makes everyone feel comfortable with new language skills. In noncredit classes, UW-Madison instructors understand that adult students may be reluctant to jump in and speak in class. For this reason, our instructors are committed to building a warm rapport among students, which may involve watching an international film or sharing a meal together.

In UW-Madison language classes, you learn more because our curriculum includes a series of planned lessons, presented by expertly-trained instructors. You benefit from face-to-face instruction, which gives you a chance to observe pronunciation and to clearly hear how each word should sound.

You'll expand your vocabulary, practice pronunciation and carry on conversations about cultural customs, cuisine, and social practices in more advanced classes. Our instructors help you build your confidence when using your new language.

"My teacher has a wonderful sense of humor and was truly passionate about Spanish grammar and culture."

UW-Madison world language classes are open to all

Adults:

Arabic: beginning and conversational

Mandarin Chinese: beginning and conversational

French: beginning and intermediate

French for business

French for reading knowledge

German: beginning and intermediate

German for reading knowledge

Irish: beginning

Italian: beginning and conversational

Korean: beginning and intermediate

Norwegian: beginning

Portuguese: conversational

Spanish: four levels plus advanced conversational

Spanish for business

Spanish for reading knowledge

French, German, Italian, and Spanish for travel

Youth:

Chinese: beginning and intermediate

Spanish: beginning and intermediate

"My class met in a restaurant and other locations where we could practice conversing as we learned new terms and expressions."

www.dcs.wisc.edu/lisa/languages

